

ZIGAN ALDI

Zigan grew up in eastern Turkey as the youngest son of a shepherd family. He found his first great love in the music of the Roma and Sinti. Later, his love also grew for the Turkish, Armenian, Kurdish and Persian sounds.

As a teenager, Zigan moved from the quiet mountains to the restless Berlin of the 80s. Wild times with wild sounds. And Zigan's love also got shrill, loud and electronic traits. The music of Orient and Occident had become his passion and lived a wild romance in his life. But before he was to make music himself, Zigan spent a few years as a bon vivant, cook, cab driver, nanny, carpenter and Kreuzberger.

No one was surprised when Zigan became a DJ for Gipsy Swing. A few years in the underworld of Berlin's swing and gypsy scene followed. Gipsy was joined by the big wide world of electronics and the first release appeared in 2015 on the 3000° Records label. Shortly after, other labels like Bedouin, 3000° Records, True Colors and Underyourskin discovered him. Gigs at the Fusion Festival and in Berlin clubs like KaterBlau, Ritterbutzke or Sysiphos followed.

But as much as the Berliner loves his home town, he is increasingly drawn to international gigs, in Europe, America, Asia and the Middle East; playing shows and developing new sound from the road, admiring the diversity of cultures.

Once a shepherd boy, now a DJ - What unites the two souls is the wild world of sounds that plays with the mind and landscapes. Sounds from all four directions, interwoven with long, colorful and complex melodies.
